JOAN M. ROCK

D E D I C A T I O N

IN honor of one who has won the love of those she serves, her staff, co-workers, and students, the 1940 Prattonia is gratefully dedicated. Two years ago, Miss Rock came to Pratt Institute as Director of the School of Household Science and Arts and, possessing both leadership and understanding, she has rendered, in that time, aid and inspiration to many.

Widely known in business circles as a home economist—a recent honor was her's when elected to the governing board of Fashion Group Inc.—Miss Rock has applied her experience and vision to her work at Pratt. Through her efforts the four year course in Home Economics, leading to a Bachelors Degree, will be put into operation next year.

The students have found Miss Rock one who appreciates their problems and wants, whose efficiency is tempered with kindness and a grand sense of humor.

F O R E W O R D

THE immediate value of the Prattonia is had as a chronicle of events of the past year and a photographic record of those who participated in them.

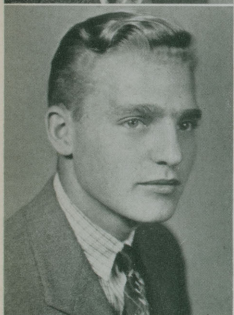

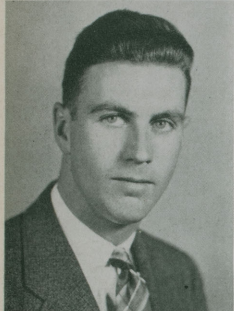

Yet, its greatest worth should come in the future. For, as time passes, facts and photos of one year are not desired so much as something that represents the spirit of the Institute, that has been felt by students since it was founded. This is not limited to a definite time or class.

The 1940 Prattonia has been composed with this in mind and it is hoped that some of the art work, photography, and writings will have this representative and lasting quality.

PRATTONIA BOARD

THE Prattonia Board was created late in the school year, so, like the runner, it had to start at top speed and gradually increase its pace. This called for emergency measures and problems and help from many.

We especially wish to thank the Faculty Advisors, who provided invaluable assistance; Mr. Civardi for his aid to the Photo Staff; Mr. Boulware, who guided the production of the three dimensional figures reproduced elsewhere; Mr. McKillop for his excellent sport shots; Dr. Kinney for some interesting studies of the chem lab; Bob Smallman for his portrait of the cannon; Kurt Schaefer for putting S & T activities on film; the creators of the above mentioned figures—Joe Canzani for the tin dancers, and Edward Biow for the Plaster cheerleaders; Harry Williams for his fine photographs, including the section picture of the Art School; James Tenety for some of the aviation photos; all others who have assisted us in any way and most certainly the School Secretaries to whom we were running every other minute.

Prattonia Representatives

THE financial success of this, the 1940 Prattonia, has been in large part due to the combined efforts of some forty Prattonia representatives.

The Prattonia representatives were elected by their respective classes and organized into a smooth working staff by the Business Manager.

Their main responsibilities have been the successful promotion and sale of the yearbook throughout the classes in the four schools of the Institute. The successful sale and promotion of the yearbook has not been an easy problem. The Prattonia representatives challenged and overcame the multitudinous reasons advanced by many students for lack of support, however, by impressively outlining and giving in detail the material presented within these pages.

Their reward has been the experience gained in properly meeting and talking to people and also gathering a knowledge of sales psychology.

Student Council

THE outstanding aim of the Student Council Program for the year 1939-40 has been to unite the four schools of the Institute and to build up a feeling of good fellowship as a basis for this union.

The first item which was a means to the above aim was the carrying out of the Student Activities Fee Plan. This plan was the brain child of last year's Council, and to their efforts we give a unanimous vote of thanks. The fee provided for the establishment of an inter-school newspaper and the celebration of a Field Day for the entire Student Body. The Prattler is now well established and is the pride of the Council. James Cooper gave much energy to the early organizing of the staff; then William Rivchin assumed the responsibility of getting the paper to press. These two "Prattler-Starters" were assisted by a hard-working staff, and our second unanimous vote of thanks goes to them. The second part of the plan is the Field Day scheduled for May. John Jansson and Virginia Guild tell us of plans for a sport program, dramatics, and dancing in the streets, to be climaxed by the crowning of Pratt's king and queen. A great day it should be!

The second means for this union of the schools consisted of many ideas carried out by the following: Gordon Beckwith with his committee from the Council selected the Essex House as the site for this year's Senior Prom; Joseph Lauinger was manager of the Tuesday afternoon dances; De Wolfe Hotchkiss poured several buckets of bills into the Swimming Pool Fund. Rita Slowey's Awards Committee and John Jansson's School Spirit Committee are seen working on plans.

Our third unanimous vote of approval goes to Miss Middle-ditch, Miss Feeney, Mr. Cowles, and Mr. Ajootian, our patient and helpful advisors.

Student Council

THE Student Council is that group of engineers, artists, and householders, and a librarian (with or without a copy of After Many a Summer Dies the Swan) who can be seen every Monday hurrying toward Room 132. What happens behind the closed doors of Room 132? Here these leaders of their classes listen to the problems of the Institute, discuss new plans, and often present new ideas of their own. Not the least of the duties carried out by the able Student Council members is the announcement to their classes of the varied activities of the Institute. Every other week all members assume the roles of Town Criers and bring to their classmates news of movies, games, dances, music programs, and Thursday noon service.

This year the Student Council was doubly favored with two presidents. Industrial Designer Robert White had so many designs in the fire that he was unable to continue as president. Engineer George Gilmore took over the job and we owe thanks to both of them.

SCHOOL OF FINE AND APPLIED ARTS

SEVERAL years ago the administrative staff of your Art school agreed upon a statement of our philosophy. We feel that the continued adherence to the two basic objectives stated in this philosophy have made it possible for us to render an increasing service from year to year to both our undergraduates and alumni. The two objectives follow:

The first calls for a program that synchronizes with the best contemporary professional practices. This is possible of realization only when the faculty and student body work together in terms of the business and art activities prevalent in the commercial and industrial worlds. To support this program, leaders in the professional art fields have been secured as instructors. From them the students develop an attitude of seriousness and application resulting in a wholesome atmosphere. Completing three years of such a program of study, the graduate finds he is in the happy situation of having no gap to bridge between his training and the workaday world.

The second objective, even more difficult to realize than the first, yet predicated upon it, maintains that the educational intent of the Art School is fully realized only when all its outgoing graduates are employed in the professional field for which they trained. In addition the School activity participates in the advance of its alumni to their maximum capacity service.

JAMES C. BOUDREAU,
Director.

At last the time has drawn nigh when we shall be let loose upon an unsuspecting world. Three years ago, we entered Pratt Institute to sweep all before us. Three years of exposure to the ways of the work-a-day commercial atmosphere have made from that wide-eyed mob of freshmen, a group much more prepared for the actualities of business. Goaded by pleas to "get the structural concept" and stimulated by contests arranged by our supervisor, we managed to approximate an excellent imitation of hard work. Several of our number won acclaim, and three more, substantial rewards as the result of these competitions. But our three years have also had many moments of fun. Songs, harmony and jokes, practical and otherwise, were continually floating about; but in spite of it all, both class and instructors survived.

Now we are ready for the step that is to determine our future. After commencement, the group, that has been so closely united, will scatter into the various fields for which they have been trained. Several of our number have dropped by the wayside, but in general we are that same gang that embarked on this adventure. More sober and wiser now, we prepare to leave Pratt Institute knowing that here we have spent three of the happiest and fullest years of our lives.

ADVERTISING DESIGN 3B

He got off the rocket ship and flew earthwards. "At the end of the arrow he'll find Dot Sweeney", he muttered—passing Scotford sitting on a cloud of J & J. Entering the Rofheart-Symansyck building he sighed "more business". Coming out were Relay and Revell saying "we just designed an exhibit and Meyers is putting it up." He went in but it was all students' work so he left via Wescotts studio. Emerging he saw Fanny Levine hanging on the arm of a copy of the New York Times. And there was glamorous Eraine Mantas being photographed by Maskaly with Muskstadt alongside giggling. Ginny Millard on her way to get a photostadt flew by with Pat Pitts who had just written up Ollie Sommers' wedding. He turned the corner and there was Lipowski his hair a-flying. He was on his way to see O'Malley working on his lamps. Accompanying him we passed Quell ballyhooing MacDonald in his latest picture "Bustle Disease". The whole class was out in its full regalia.

To add a more serious note to this work, the whole class has spent three very profitable years in the studios at Pratt and, while this was written in a frivolous vein, we sincerely hope that each member of the class achieves his aims in the years to come.

ARCHITECTURE 3

VOLTAIRE once said, "From history we learn that from history we learn nothing." Architecture III claims no exception from this otherwise erroneous bit of banter.

We confess a very mundane year. The Sleeping Beauty (?) Miss Rosabel Robbins slept her way to greater glory and that's no lie. George Katavalos, the militant skeptic, gained new honors in cynicism under the influence of one Amisano. "Red" Crowcock, the Bird, graces us with his presence when not engaged in C.A.A. activities. Bob (Moneybox) Colby, our treasurer, inflicted the stigma of his puns upon the usual unsuspecting youths.

Olly Howell took over the class presidential seat upon the abdication of our "Communitistic Leader". We saw the full-flowering of the genius in Charlie (Close to the Ground) Keyes. His work was without parallel in the history of our greatest mental institution. Howard (It's your life's work) McMurray was endowed with superfluous tissue which he carried rather well with the aid of chapeau.

Generally the architectural department was going through a renaissance and we, as usual, were tossed upon the resulting waves of chance. We look the same, we're a lot the same, but our hearts say no, no we're not.

ARCHITECTURE 4

OUR "Prelude to Labor" is done! From its inception in those first faint stirrings of creative desire, to the last line on the last drawing, it has run its course and all our hopes have been realized. We have grown, in mental stature, and in the knowledge that friendships formed in the atmosphere of common attainment will endure. We have had our first taste of that peculiar responsibility incurred by the architect in relation to the satisfying and educating of his client.

Our "Prelude" has passed in four short years. We became more dextrous with the traditional tools of our profession. The fates to the vagaries of youth and the depression, there remain nine out have dealt rather harshly with our original number, for now due of twenty-six.

Our last year coincided with the first year of Mr. Briggs as Supervisor of our Department. In the short time of our association, we already know him as a real friend. He has aimed at the heights and we regret that we cannot remain to share the success that will belong to him and to the Department.

Now that our "Prelude to Labor" is done we face the future serenely, in the knowledge that at last the issue is joined and it is up to us to find our niche.

ART EDUCATION 4

STILL vibrating in our memories are many notorious incidents, a number of which are with held after due deliberation for reasons best known to the parties concerned. But one can never forget "surrealist" Rivichin who, for exercise, argues the back legs off a chair each morning. Also, Hal, the only senior wearing a tuxedo at the convention, who was mistaken for a full-grown man and was danced with by all the old ladies. And even after four years, Wendy still plays the flute, Milly still wears braids, and Sara still types stencils. Coman could never be found separated from his briefcase and picture of his baby. Scandle? No, it's legal. Did somebody ask where have Maggie, Ruth, and Zaby been all the time? Too bad Mr. Civardi doesn't give some of us our term marks. Then too, we remember Ann trying to be a blond hussy—she was. And rumor has it that Shirley and Dee are going to accept the same job. How exciting—for the kids. The biggest mystery is where Dolly has been for the last seven months. These and many other never-to-be-erased, never-forgotten, and enduring recollections will be cherished by all of us in memory of four short but wonderful years at Pratt.

INDUSTRIAL AND TEXTILE DESIGN 3

NOW wait a minute, there is no sense in rushing this thing. After all, we have until June to finish it . . . here we go!

"Somebody stole the cork screw . . . we've had to go hungry all day . . . have you got a model of that bottle? Where did you get that curve? . . . it comes out at ninety miles an hour! . . . Say! maybe I'm talking over your heads . . . I can't say right now, I don't have the catalogue . . . and when you think of this being stamped out of one piece, that is something . . . do you think this locomotive would look better in cerise or chartreuse? . . . we understand Heylum became of age this year . . . AND HOW! . . . what have you done, my little man, to improve your intellectual standing? . . . it's nice to have around, looks professional . . . how the girls miss Andrews, and Chesterly too, for that matter . . . Jasmine, she's certainly a remarkable girl . . . and now to a man who will remain foremost in our happy memories of Pratt . . . Here's to the best of everything, Mr. Dohner!"

INTERIOR DECORATION 2

SOME of us have been here a year, some of us two, and a few of us a little longer. We've been well initiated into routine and hard work. Usually, the days are long, and the nights are longer. Field trips! Maybe we haven't covered the waterfront, but we've pretty well covered Manhattan, a goodly portion of Brooklyn, and outlying districts. We've also covered reams of paper with innumerable doodles and all too frequent assignments. Perhaps the most interesting of these was done for Mrs. Gertrude Robinson, one of the world's foremost decorators. We were honored late in January in giving a tea at the Decorators' Club in honor of Mrs. Robinson. Our work has hung in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, has toured the entire U. S. in several exhibitions, and we were further honored by being the first class of any school to have work presented in the Museum of Modern Art.

All in all, we've done pretty well, but only because instructors have done well by us. They seem to have an enviable amount of patience, for which we are justly thankful. We're also indebted to them for a superlative training in a specialized vocation, an attitude undoubtedly shared by all the students of Pratt Institute. Why else would we be here?

PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATION 3

TO write a history of a class composed of genii, killerdillers, impersonators, warblers and other odd personalities, is rather difficult. As a group, may we concede to our lack of culture, "taxture", "tansion", "tectility" and "strocture"? Thereby having disposed of our group as a whole, there remains only personalities to deal with.

Avison poses as a means to an end. Holmstrom has a viking constitution which accounts for his 10:30 arrivals to class. The Pan of Pictoral III turns out to be Peggy K. with her penny whistles. Now that Hodgland is gone, we have only the Rugged Guthrie for support. Miss Kennedy boosted snood sales considerably. Hotchkiss is an esoteric warbler. We hear that Mr. Lustig has gone and done it. One of the Macs claims to be a killerdiller, the other is wrapped up in a "bewilderness"—Ten years hence a famous Hollywood firm will be Ostrowski and Disney. Tink has just discarded his 40th "technique" of the week and inaugurated the 41st. It's whispered that Vatcher likes horses and Miss Walker, costumes. Marge W. is the only girl in pulp—need we say more?

Thus ends the history of the afore mentioned hodge-podge classed as "students". Be not deceived. This is only the stepping stone to events which live in history.

A STOOP TO CONQUER . . .

JOAN M. ROCK

SCHOOL OF HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE AND ARTS

GRADUATES of this school, regardless of course, share a common objective, common ideals and certain common training experiences. You, who are leaving, may take issue with that statement if your objective is "getting a job".

So long as people must be fed, housed, clothed, nursed, socially-adjusted, and culturally-inspired, there will be careers for women. Whether your career objective is reached through marriage and a family, or by means of a professional or business application, the specialized skills necessary to administer the job and the personal values in satisfaction which result from it, have been predicated upon a common foundation — homemaking education.

It may be that your responsibility will be to interpret the best home ideals and standards to others, or to administer, on a large scale, the principles of home-unit practice or, by actually doing the work of menu and food preparation, clothing design and construction, home furnishing, etc., and thus show that the modern ideals and practices of home living, as they are taught in H. S. and A., are the means of achieving a better world to live in and better men and women to live in it.

I can wish you no greater satisfaction than the opportunity to have such a career, no matter by what name it is called, nor could this school delegate to you a greater responsibility and trust.

JOAN ROCK,
Director.

COSTUME DESIGN 2

CAN it be? Is it true that our days at Pratt are nearing an end? Our little groups of needle pushing gossipers will soon be seen no longer gathering in the halls, and on the steps. In our two years here, we learned that even the lowly muslin has a very definite grain, and that pinked seams are below the standards of a Costume Designer! Our first problem was the smock which we have been wearing for the past two years with despair and hope; despair lest the voluminous pockets some day become inflated with air and carry us away; and hope that the seams would hold out 'till we should, with a sigh, put them in our chest of souvenirs. Among the treasures we take with us are: the Junior Jig, the Artisan's dance, and the Spring Fashion Show of our first year; the Freshman Hallowe'en party, the Paris openings, the spring party with our junior sisters, and S.E.S.E. meetings of our last year.

Although we regret the loss of Miss Mary Stewart from our faculty, we know that she is going on to greater things and we want to wish her the best of luck.

As June looms up before us we hope we can give to our profession the service we have been trained to give. It is with a smile for the future and a grin for the past that we say . . . "Good-bye!"

COSTUME DESIGN 3

ON such a day as only September can serve—crisp edges and warm center—there entered the portals of Pratt Institute a timid yet hopeful group of miscellaneous girls and John—John really should have special mention because he has withstood the rigors of being the one man in a not too small class of girls—ready to launch out on a Designing career.

It is pleasant to look back over the past three “winged” years—Fashion Shows, Museums, Economics, English, Textiles, Sketching, Modern Dance, Life, Psychology, Volley Ball, Basketball, Hockey. Yes, our first and second terms were wonderfully worth while, but what a tremendous chance for improvement. We hadn’t realized that so much could be crowded into this seemingly short third term.

With the rounding up of the last year comes the realization of how our unripened opinions grew into substantial certainties under the capable, patient guidance of our faculty.

“We,” as the graduating students have come a long way since we first timidly faced the stares of the older students. However, we realize that we must keep acquiring knowledge in the future and look forward with courage and hope.

DIETETICS 2

BEQUEATHED with silver spoons of luck in being the first dietetics class to serve its full time under the direction of Miss Rock, we claim a special position on the pathway of passing dietitians. We justly claim the title of being most industrious, ambitious, and co-operative. Much of this our Directress has given us.

Neither our parties nor our sense of humor will be forgotten soon. No two days have been alike in their rare enjoyment. We shall always remember the all night trip to markets, with the lagging feet and shaking hands of the following school day, the spontaneous, gay party given our seniors, Ruthie Thompson trying to carry Madame X, the skeleton, our eventful summer training, Florence Williams' request for water after her demonstration, Geraldine DeMauro's amazing synthesis on her Chemistry final, Margery Cree's resolution not to break any more test tubes, the trip to Hawaii given to the juniors, our nutrition playlets, teas, and foreign dinners, the prom and all too suddenly graduation.

Crossing the brink with the final step of graduation we go with the knowledge that we have balanced hard work and play, and our reward lies in the feeling of well being that we have given as well as taken of Pratt and the traditions of Pratt have been rich in their fulfillment.

MARRIAGE BUREAU? No sir, this is the rudimentary backbone of 39's DII's. We are the floundering co-eds who have harangued every college and considered every career, and remain undecided. Firm believers in the status quo and the sine qua non of our placid natures, we cling to the accustomed shelter of our alma mater.

Amazons of fortitude we! Despite setbacks in the forms of appendectomies, cystitis, laryngitis, enteritis and distemper, we staggered on, just like time and equally as determined. Perhaps Bettie, our authority on Shakespeare, can think of some quotation which will be appropriate here.

Remember Fran Lewis' concern for the Prattler or Gail's verbal acceptance of the post of chairman for the SSOAPY (Society for the Social Organization of All Pratt Youghs—Yoicks!)? And what about Helen Houseman's bouts in Physics? Can Muriel maintain her high ideals of perfection in the cold, cruel world? Imagine Martha being the first to be married! All of which brings us to Beatty Hume's prize-taking "So what?"

DRESSMAKING

WE well remember the first day we entered Pratt last September—some of us with no knowledge of sewing or dressmaking—others handicapped by the belief they knew something of this elusive art. We soon learned that “Dressmaking” as taught at Pratt is more comprehensive than anything we had anticipated. Under the tutelage and inspiration of our teachers, we gradually assimilated the fundamentals of this complicated subject.

The class took shape as a unit in school activities with the election of officers. The Dressmakers this year took pride in their diversified activities—both social and athletic. The outstanding social event of the season being a tea held at the Women’s Club to welcome to these portals the new Dressmakers who entered in January. The entertainment committee provided amusing games with the added incentive of beautiful prizes to the winners. Refreshments were served and the party was a very memorable occasion. Our athletes proved their prowess in swimming, basketball, volley ball and fencing.

The Women’s Club party and the field trips to the museums in New York stand out as high lights.

As this school year draws to a close, we reflect the multitude of things we have learned. Although we may not be Schiaparellis, we will always remember Pratt.

HOMEMAKING I

IN September of last year, fifteen girls with various temperaments and aims came together to make college "bread" homemakers of themselves. Since this product has so many purposes in this world, many ingredients must be used to insure the best possible "bread". The first constituents on the recipe seemed unrelated, and we often wondered among ourselves whether or not our own loaf might not come out just as well if we left out one or more of the many elements. However, as they were mixed in regular order, the dough seemed strangely enough to take on a very normal appearance.

At intervals during this mixing process we were subjected to various stages of leavening. One of the first was a trip to the New York World's Fair where we soaked in much knowledge on subjects pertinent to our product. Other places of rising were the Williamsburg Project, the Lincoln School affiliated with Columbia University, the Pilgrim Laundry, and The Colonial Dames.

As no two of us had the same background and as no two of us are planning to become the same identical type in the end, we finish our process of becoming college "bread" homemakers only to find some of our number fine yeast rolls, others fancy breads, and others pancakes.

INSTITUTIONAL MANAGEMENT

I N September 1939, our Institutional Management class met each other for the first time. We came from varied backgrounds, but with the same view, namely, to make the most of what Pratt could give us. Some of us succeeded and some didn't. Through the fall and winter months we lost some of our friends. By the end of January we were only 23 in number.

The long, hard winter months were pleasantly interspersed with field trips. Wednesday mornings found us all over New York City, in and out of the National Biscuit Company and swarming all over the Good Housekeeping Institute. The success of our first affair, a Chinese Supper, can be accredited to good food, and lots of fun.

By this time, we had spoiled our due amount of cakes, and broken our allotted number of test tubes. We knew the difference between debit and credit, and how rats would react to a low fat diet. We were old hands at capturing bacteria and dissecting frogs. We could make perfect white sauce and no one needed to remind us to "float the flour". Then came the wonderful Easter vacation, our field day, and soon after, graduation. Now we are full-fledged "Institution Managers", anxious to get to work, sincerely grateful for all that Pratt has done for us.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARY SCIENCE

THE object of the Library School is to give a carefully selected group of students a professional education to fit them for positions in all the branches of library science, and the greater responsibilities which devolve on libraries of all types today. Since the historical point of view should always be considered, the school is proud to record that we are the second library school to be established in the country and that we are now the oldest school in continuous existence under the same auspices.

The library has always been an integral part of our educational process, so it is proper to record that before another Prattonia appears we shall be the library of the Institute only and no longer a free library for the public as we have been for the past fifty-two years. Students doubtless will miss being slowed down by children on their way to story hour and other similar scenes from the public library world, but the library feels it has a bright future when it can concentrate all its efforts toward making the students' stay at Pratt a richer experience than it can be when our efforts are much divided.

So we start off on a new road, happy with the knowledge that the Institute has enabled us to make the lives of thousands more interesting.

LIBRARY SCIENCE

IN September 23th, 1939, twenty-eight men and women hailing from Peru to Canada and from California to Connecticut, embarked upon the library science course. We were drawn by the high regard and rich traditions of Pratt which remain constant in a world of changing values and shifting standards.

The class of 1940 claims in a modest way, to have participated in history making. We are the first class to be selected by Hiss Hansen; the first class to come under the new certification standards; the first class to lay the foundations of a book talk records library and unfortunately, the first class in twenty-two years to go out into a war time world.

The remarkable congeniality of the group, at once apparent, has remained firm. The class has met and successively surmounted the hazards and trials of the course, aided and ably guided by a far seeing and stimulating faculty. As a class we have been admitted to the initiate by the Graduates' reception and luncheon, encouraged and made aware of our duties by visiting lecturers, experts in their fields, our view broadened by visiting local and distant libraries, and finally we have been fined down by intensive practice work. 1940 now takes its place in the ranks of the alumni.

SCHOOL OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

THE faculty of the School of Science and Technology extends its greetings and best wishes for the future to the graduates of 1940.

The education which you have received, gives you a good foundation for success in your future vocation. I hope all of you will take up your future work with a feeling of confidence in your ability to meet the requirements of your position. I wish to emphasize the familiar statement that a man's education should not cease upon graduation. This is very important where technical development proceeds at such a rapid pace that the young engineer must continue to acquire knowledge and understanding of his field if he expects to advance to positions of greater responsibility. Resolve to do a little more than the duties of your position require and become familiar as well as you can with the requirements of the advanced position to which you aspire. If you demonstrate that you are capable of greater responsibility you will stand out from the crowd and will therefore have a better chance for promotion when the opportunity comes.

I urge you to support our alumni association and now when the income from the Institute's endowment is insufficient to maintain our high standards of performance, we are asking our alumni for annual contributions for operating expenses.

ARTHUR L. COOK,
Director.

THAT first year! Will we ever forget it? The Lenruth-Banker chasing Bailin, in alphabetical order—Doc. Mantell's boutonniere fresheener—the second year mens' campus rules.

Back for second year. That was a dark year. We became the "Black Sheep" and saw the Industrial Lab dug full of trenches like a battlefield, and wondered what next. We were cynics then.

Came the third year! We grabbed pipe wrenches and built the Chem. Engineering Lab—found out there actually was something to Reynolds Number. "Guano" showed us a thing or three. The Blue Room became our headquarters with Joe as the ringleader. Then Scollay Square, the battle of Long Island Sound, eating our breakfast on a forty-five degree angle. And didn't we put on the best Chem Show ever?

There was a lot more to it than good times and gags. The things we'll want to remember—classes, the spirit of the place—are quantities that make words inadequate, but their value will ripen as the years go on and we find ourselves up against the stiffer problems of the world.

INDUSTRIAL CHEMICAL ENGINEERING 3

ONE day in September 1937, about 40 men gathered in the chemistry building. This group was known from then on as the Industrial Chemical Engineering '40. At the first meeting we elected Al Stewart, president; Stuart Jolly, secretary; Kurt Schaefer, treasurer; and Bob Marra, athletic representative for the next two years. The basket ball team won the reputation of being the flashiest team on the court because of their green satin uniforms. In the spring Johnny March and Iggy Johnston made the varsity baseball team and played the next two years. The chemicals won the interclass championship that year. The players from our class on the team were Tom Dalton, Carl Bisesi, Tony Anastasio, and Carl Miceli.

The second year arrived with much of the social life occurring just before vacations. In the spring Al Stewart, Kurt Schaefer, Russ Cray and Bill Schaefer smashed their way to the interclass championship.

We are now looking forward to the Chem banquet of which the boys are in charge.

THE optional fourth year leading to a Bachelor's Degree in Electrical Engineering provided the opportunity for most of us last year graduates to continue our education.

The leadership and responsibility for cooperation fell upon Bud Francis who executed his duties as president with finesse. George Doxey, energetic chairman of the A.I.E.E., lifted our branch into national prominence with a record membership. The idea for that memorable S. & T. dance at the St. George Hotel roof originated with Bill Yanarella, who cooperated with Jim Guida and the rest of the dance committee to make it a success.

Amidst the perplexities of differential equations and "soap bubble analysis" not to mention the  $n$ th degree accuracy prescribed by Richardson's "toss me here and add me there" method, we managed somehow to retain our dignity. In the Psycho-class, we first learned of the alter ego while in Statistics we tried hard to correlate sun-spots with the fatalities caused by mule kicks in the Russian army. With these memories, we face the future, prepared to meet what lies before us.

MEMORIES of pleasant times, good fellows, and friendly cooperation blend to make life at its best, and we shall be able to lighten many dark days by reminiscing over our days at Pratt. Mr. Carr and his basic fundamentals, Mr. Hertzler and his welcome humor, Mr. Miller and his pipe, and Mr. Wright with the political angle will always have their places in our memories.

We have chased the little electron around miles of wire, peeked inside the atom for a look around, and have become well acquainted with those good old causes and effects. We modestly acknowledge that without our chosen profession and its services to the world, things would be quite primitive.

Bowling, basketball, swimming, soccer and many other sports and social contacts have enlivened our stay at Pratt, and have given rise to a lot of lively interest and competition. Speaking of lively interest and competition... The Art School!

We mourn the death of a real friend and former classmate, Sig Sackel, whose ready and sincere friendliness made him a host of friends among us in the short time that we knew him.

JAMES TENETY President
THEODORE F. KUZYN Vice-Pres.
AUGUSTUS F. MANGANI Secretary
WILLIAM M. MORSELL Treasurer

LOOKING back over the momentous past four years, we discover that we have indeed left our mark. We have been fortunate in having among us many men who have contributed more than their share, not only for Pratt Institute but for their class as well.

In varsity sports we excelled. Gus and Al Mangani, Joe Falotico, Dick Day and Bob Wilcox were outstanding in Basketball. To baseball we contributed Joe Falotico, captain and leading hitter. We did just as well in intramurals, winning the school championship in two consecutive years. The Herculean energy of our class helped win the football title and the swimming championship and helped the Mechanical Course to win the intramural plaque for the first time with the amazing total of 115 points.

The leadership of our class was entrusted to our competent class officers and also to Lee Maher, Chairman of the A. S. M. E., Bill Morsell, past-chairman A. S. M. E., Gene Wendolkowski, chairman of the Aero-A. S. M. E., Charles Fennel past class president and others whose work will not soon be forgotten.

INDUSTRIAL MECHANICAL ENGINEERING 3

ONE bright morning in the fall of 1937, ninety-odd of us meandered up the stairs of the Engineering Building. Three years slipped by, years filled with memories of hard work, and fun. We will all remember those delightful (?) class meetings under the leadership of President Macpherson in our Freshmen year and then Matthew W. Bence in our second year and finally Forrest G. Raynor in the current year. These are all memories that will follow us through life wherever we may be.

Many of our friends will go on to greater things, others will end their formal education now, but the bond between us, welded with three years of comradeship, will never see a yield point.

As a class we wish to express our sincere thanks to Mr. Dale and the faculty for their co-operation and understanding ever present in our task. And a last wish of good luck to classmates and an expression of hope that as the years go on, their fortunes and good luck increase forever.

F. GORDON RAYNOR President
FRANK J. FORMANEK Vice-Pres.
ANDREW W. ANDRESEN Secretary
DOUGLAS T. ABBOTT Treasurer

Athletic Council

WILLIAM MCKILLOP
Coach

FRED WRIGHT
Athletic Director

THE Athletic Council was first organized in 1922 for the purpose of acting as a medium through which the student body could express its views on subjects concerning athletics. The council now closes its books on another memorable year of activities.

Noteworthy of the years accomplishments was the stimulated interest in interclass athletics which showed a greatly increased number of participants over previous years. The council attempted to develop student interest and increase the attendance at Varsity Basketball games through greater publicity and special attractions. This year for the benefit of the students, purchases include a special colored lighting shade for the gymnasium, music stands and lighting fixtures for the orchestra, a radio for the Men's Club, a new drinking fountain and two new ping pong tables for the gymnasium. The council also appropriated money for the rebuilding of a room in the gymnasium which is now used for ping pong tournaments.

Many suggestions have been made which will be considered in improving the Pratt Hand Book in making it more attractive and more interesting. Rules and articles governing interclass activities and varsity sports have been amended in order to improve the sports and establish definite rules in special cases which may arise.

Many thanks are to be given Mr. Charles Pratt, Mr. Wright, Mr. McKillop, Mr. Hostetter, and Mr. Ajootian of the faculty for their aid in advising the council, and to the Editorial staffs of the Prattler and Data Board for their excellent work for the benefit of the Athletic Association. Congratulations to the Inter-Class Managers for their splendid work.

Alma Mater

Towering far above her neighbors,
 Shop and mart and hall,
 Stands the home of student-labors,
 Noblest of them all!

At each meeting, give her greeting,
 Raise the proud salute!
 Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
 Hail, Pratt Institute!

In our hearts her precepts linger,
 Her example gleams,
 Showing with unerring finger
 Guerdon of our dreams.

At our meeting, for our greeting,
 Bring her noble fruit,
 Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
 Hail, Pratt Institute!

Round the world the chain extending,
 Each to the other binds,
 All her honored name defending,
 Hearts and hands and minds.

At our meeting, give her greeting,
 Raise the proud salute!
 Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
 Hail, Pratt Institute!

CHEERLEADERS

Last fall, Warren "Sandy" Sambach, cheerleader, issued a call for assistant cheerleaders and from the number answering the call, Pat Dreher, Rusty Selmer, and Breen Loughridge were selected. An evening job was the cause for Rusty Selmar's resignation in the early part of the year. A little later, Breen Loughridge dropped out because of illness. Pat and Sandy became the long and short of our cheering squad. They managed very capably in carrying the burden. They had poor response from the Pratt rooters at first but overcame the disadvantage by introducing several new cheers.

The squad wishes to thank those who lent their hearty voices in cheering for 'he Black and Gold.

Varsity Basketball

THE Pratt Varsity Basketball team had a highly successful year with 9 victories and 5 defeats. This is the second consecutive year that the team has been under the leadership of a new coach. This year the man in the driver's seat was Mr. Hollis S. Spotts, who is well known in the metropolitan area as an official and coach of the highly successful teams of Adelphi Academy.

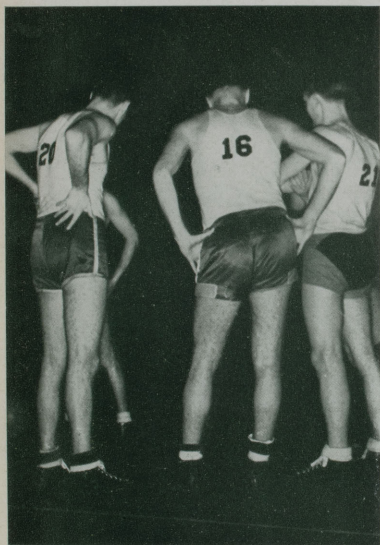

The Pratt Institute Varsity quintet opened its season with a 72-68 overtime victory over Wyomissing (Pa.) Poly Tech. It was a closely fought contest with the visitors ahead in the closing seconds of the game. Beef Johnston tied the score with 20 seconds to go with a long shot. In the overtime period Pratt won. The high scorer for Pratt in this game was Miller with 22 points.

After being held to a 4-3 score in the opening minutes, St. John's five opened a strong attack to tally ten points before Pratt added its fourth marker. The Redmen were on the long end of a 40-10 score at the end of the half.

The Indians defeated Pratt at the home gym with a last minute surge. Springfield scored early and led at the half by a score of 22-14. The second half saw a determined Pratt quintet begin a drive that ended with a tie score with a minute and 20 seconds left to play. The Springfield team shattered Pratt's hopes by looping 5 more points. Top scoring honors were divided between Ryan and Miller, each scoring 12 points.

The Cannoneers showed that they could get in the winning column after the last two defeats and they did, much to the chagrin of the Queens college quintet. The boys were ahead 29 to 11 at the end of the half. A rejuvenated Queens five came within a deuce of tying the score in the closing minutes of play. The Spottsmen then became aggressive to pull away in the final minutes. Miller scored 12 points taking scoring honors.

The Pratt team was really clicking and proved it to Delaware at the Pratt Gym. A little mix up on the part of the players and several spectators delayed the game for a short while but the trouble was cleaned up in a short order and Pratt went on to win. Beef Johnston was the top man in the contest with 16 points.

At Page Hall, Albany, the Cannoneers rallied in the last quarter to defeat N. Y. State Teachers. State was on the offensive and was ahead most of the game. In the last quarter Pratt let loose a string of tallies which added up to 12 points in less than two minutes. It was in this period that Ryan scored 13 points.

Renssalaer gave Pratt the run around on their tremendous court at Troy. The Brooklynites started off great, for the score was 21 to 11 at the end of the quarter. The team began to tire; at the end of the half, the score was 24 all. At the three quarter marker the score was 41 to 29 in favor of R.P.I. Pratt began to get their second wind in the last quarter, but R.P.I. won with a 49 to 40 score.

With a blistering second half attack that ran an undermanned Alumni squad ragged, varsity crushed them by 34 point lead. The Alumni jumped to an early lead and held a 30 to 27 half-time advantage, midway through the third quarter fought back to a 37-37 tie before fresh varsity substitutes caged up the game

The State Teachers quintet was outlasted by Pratt to the tune of 14 points. Pratt, led by Bob Miller and Beef Johnston, captured the first half 30 to 22. The Teachers rallied in the second half and cut the lead to two points. Gus Mangani and Al Stewart saved Pratt by fancy floorwork and shooting.

Worcester's big team proved too much for our quintet. The Worcester Five played a bang up game throughout. It was in the second quarter that our boys got out their style and made the score stand 33 to 29 at the half way mark. The Worcesterites ended the game with a score of 68 to 55. Bob Miller rang up 21 points.

The Pratt quintet seems to have a jinx on Saturdays since this made the third Saturday loss. The Newark College led at the half by a 23 to 14 score. Both teams paced each other in the second half scoring 33 and 31 points. The high scorer was Ryan with 14 points.

The Cannoneers ran the Poly team ragged for the second time. The Pratt men showed top season form. The shooting showed the edge they were on when Ryan made 7 out of 8 and Gus Mangani 4 out of 4. Ryan and Miller tied for scoring honors with 15 points each.

The 101st Armory was the scene of the Brooklyn Poly defeat. Pratt went into an early lead and was never headed. Poly was ready for the Pratt style of play and had Ryan pretty well smothered in the early stages of the game. In spite of all, he was high scorer for Pratt with seventeen points.

Lowell Textile was trounced by Pratt at our Gym. Pratt started on the right foot and continued to pull away from the visitors. The score at the halfway mark was 35 to 27 in favor of Pratt. Johnston was the high scorer with 16 points to his credit and Miller right behind him with 15 points.

Varsity Baseball

P RATT INSTITUTE'S Baseball team, under Mr. McKillop's coaching, enjoyed a very successful season with five wins, two defeats and one tie for a season's percentage of .625. The season's opener against Upsala at East Orange, N. J., went ten innings. The timely hitting of Kinzler, Payne, and Falotico putting across two runs in the tenth. Falotico's four hits for six times up, and Lefty Zinzler's home run in the fifth inning, were the highlights of the game.

Drew University took a one-to-nothing lead in the first inning and kept it until the eighth inning when Braccia doubled and Joe Falotico homered to put Pratt ahead two-to-one. Miller's excellent pitching held the visitors to five hits.

The Alumni game was a free-hitting affair. The game saw-sawed back and forth until the fifth inning when the Pratt men took a one-run lead. The game looked as if it was going to finish that way but in the eighth, the Alumni blasted five runs across to clinch the game, winning 14-11.

Stevens Institute of Technology opened their game with a three-run attack which the home nine emulated in the fourth, tying the score. Stevens again took the lead by two runs in the fifth inning. The Canoneers raised them two in the sixth, but the Jerseyites tied the score in the eighth, and the game was called at the end of the ninth, a 7-7 tie.

The Canoneers showed New York State what their name stood for by bombarding them 20-2. State scored their only two tallies

Inclement weather stopped a baseball game at Hoboken, N. J., between Stevens and Pratt. The game was called in the last half of the first inning with the score of five-all.

New Jersey State put up one of the toughest battles at Pratt that has been seen here in many a season. After retiring State in their half of hte first, Payne led off with a single and following shortly, Joe Falotico homered to put Pratt ahead 2-0. The fourth inning featured both teams scoring a run, Pratt's tally came from the bat of "Footsie" Falotico's repeating homer. In the fifth inning, New Jersey pounded one over the fence with one man on base to tie the score 3-3. In the eighth inning, State knocked two runs across on two hits to gain the lead. Braccia opened the ninth with a single; Falotico was walked putting two men on; Marck then doubled, scoring Braccia. Pinch-hitter Michalszyn came through with a double, to knock the tying and winning run. The score became 6-5.

At Albany was the next Pratt victory, and the N. Y. State nine again came after the eight ball. The hitting power of the Canoneers was too much for the Teachers as was evidenced in the fifth inning when ten men went to bat scoring seven runs. Payne led off the third inning by hitting the only home run of the game. The game was called at the end of the sixth because of darkness with the score of 11-1.

The next afternoon, Pratt lost their second game of the season to R.P.I. at Troy, N. Y. The Rensselaer men took a three run lead in the second inning which Pratt cut down, making the score 14-5.

NOON HOUR TOUCH FOOTBALL

Again the "Juggernaut" plowed to victory only to be torpedoed in the playoffs by the elusive Mechs. The "Juggernaut" in case you are not familiar with it was made up of seniors who in the preceding two years were part of the victorious Mechanical football team. Anyone near Pratt field during the noon hour could hear the rousing cheers of the many spectators and the yells of the players in active combat. The "Lunch League's" popularity is due to the great opportunity for those who wish to take part in the inter-class competition but would be unable to, because of commuting. The noon hour league consisted of seven teams. The Seniors beat five of them and tied the others. The men that comprised the "Juggernaut" were, Dick Day, Bassman, D'Agostino, Dziedziulo, Bott, Brown, Bjorkstedt, Aldrich, Francis and Heyman.

TOUCH FOOTBALL

The turn out for touch football, the most popular interclass sport in Pratt this year, was enough to form two leagues after four and a noon hour league. Since the innovation of the sport, the Mechanicals have fought their way to the championship by the dint of hard running and accurate passing. The Mechs were the victors in two close play-off games against the winners of the noon hour league, and the Freshman four o'clock league. Braced by the formidable forward wall which consisted of Bowman, Formanek, Budde, Ramsbotham, Greten, Carpenter, Dua, Raupp and Frisino, and sparked by passing of Bob Miller, Graham and the elusiveness of Braccia, when carrying the mail in a broken field, the Mechs had the defense of the opponents on their toes. Any spectator would certainly agree that it is the most popular interclass sport because of the number of men and quality of the teams in active competition.

BASKETBALL

This year saw a tremendous turnout for basketball. So many, in fact, that three leagues had to be formed. Each league consisted of eight teams and the victorious team for "A" League was the second year Chemists. They had to fight hard in several of their games in order to emerge the victors. One of these games was played against the Senior "B" team. It was a see-saw foray in the closing minutes but Zanetti made a one handed push shot from near mid-court to break the game up. The Chemists played a rushing zone defense and a fast breaking offense that kept the opponents hustling. Other teams in the League were Senior "B", Artsmen II, Elec. III, Mech. II, Mech. I-A, Art. I-S, and Arch't. II. Members of the League-leading team are Roy Palmer, Sid Slomowitz, Dan Clarke, Mansfield, Willigan, Richard Nicolson, Jim Zanette, Elmer Muller, Henry Wilson, and Butch Westman.

BASKETBALL 'B' & 'C' LEAGUES

The leaders of the "B" league and champions of the school are the Mechanical III's. After winning the league title, the play-off ended in a three-way tie. The second play-offs were run on the elimination basis. The first game was between the Mechs III and the Architect I's, winners of the "C" league. The Mechs took that game and proceeded to just nose out the Chem II in the last game. Members of the winning team were Bob Ramsbotham, Nick Greden, Don Budde—high scorer—Pierre Bowman, Matty Bence, Bob Dua, "Cherny" Cherneachoskesky, Mike Michaeliczyn, and Harold Ginter, Manager.

The battling first year Architect basketball team fought their way into the top seat of the "C" league by winning all seven games played. The top teams in the three leagues won their position by making a clean sweep. The team that gave the Architects the most trouble was the Electrical II. Their squad had the highest scorer of the 241 students that played in the three leagues.

BOXING

Instead of having interclass boxing matches this year, there were championship bouts. The contest was run as an elimination contest for the five titles. The titles and title-holders are: Featherweight—Edward Huda (Chem III), Lightweight—Frank Fisher (Arch I), Welterweight—Allen Mc Taggart (Arch I), Light Heavy—Norman Goldberg (Art II), and Heavyweight—Edward Johnson (Chem I). These matches drew quite a few spectators because of their color and excitement. Even a few of the fairer sex became part of the crowd which was always cheering for a well-timed blow or good defense work.

Quite a bit of credit belongs to Joe Coughlin, who trained these boys in the early season and saw to it that they were in shape for the matches. Howard I. Jewett and Daniel E. Kalish also helped keep boxing on its high level by their non-partisan judging of the matches.

SWIMMING

The swimming honors go to the Artsmen who made a clean sweep of their schedule by taking the measure of all comers. A swimming meet features six events—65 yards free style, 120 yard free style, 30 yard backstroke, 45 yard breast stroke, 90 yard medley relay, and 120 yard relay. The Artsmen's success lies in the fact that DeWolfe Hotchkiss, manager, had been able to gather together the excellent talent that they showed.

One of the reasons for their success was Kuhn who was a consistent winner in the 45 yard breast stroke. Boege could be depended upon to be up in the first places in the 120 yard free style with Kovalenko another good 120 yarder. In the other distances the rest of the team, Mouille, Ruben, Harper, Faucett, and Pagliuco showed the opposition a combination of good swimming and excellent team work.

BIG PINS

Strike! The Mechanical Third Year team reclaimed the championship this year after losing it to the Senior team last year. Before that, the Mechs held the title for six successive years. The Mechanicals had plenty of strength, for their men were constant high score bowlers. Schlichtig, Chwirut, Ross, Ranks, and Monich swept the opposition before them with the exception of one or two matches which had to go the full three games to decide the winners.

Marra of the Chemical Engineers won the individual high average honors with a score of 169 points per game. The runner-up was Schlichtig of the winning kglers. The eight competing teams fought out the schedule and no team gave up until the last ball was bowled. The rumble of the balls down the alley and the crash of the pins could be heard pretty late some afternoons because of this determination.

DUCK PINS

The enthusiastic response to the call for duck pin teams led to the formation of two leagues "A" and "B". This is surprising because the Athletic Association has ruled that no man can appear in both duck pins and big pin competition. The first year Electricals were the winners of the "A" League, and Mech Threes took the count of the competition in the "B" league. In the play-off game the Mechs won out to take the interclass honors.

Manager Ginter of the Mechs did a swell job of seeing that all his lads were on hand for their contests. The boys consisted of Vernon Clark, Ken Knebel, Don Budde, Charles Ledin, and Don Dayer. These fellows bowled creditable games in the tough company they were in. It is a real job to get a strike with those small balls anytime, let alone under pressure of competition. If you doubt it, try it!

POOL

Double banks, delicate cuts and masse shots were the order of the day in the pool tournament this year. The top artists with pool cues were the Senior "B" team. A couple of the representatives of the Senior team have set the pace for four years. "Jake" Jaklitsch, Frankie Mastroda, John Lahti and Carlos Stafford, made up the formidable Seniors. The scene of action was the second floor of the Men's Club, where during any noon-hour, there can be seen the embryo cue pushers rubbing elbows with the experts in friendly competition. At the sound of the noon-hour bell there is a concerted rush to the Men's Club to see who gets the use of the tables. These games are not complete without the sideline experts who advise on the technicalities of the shots. But all in all, it's a pleasing way to pass a half hour or so.

PING PONG

The team of Yeung, Olson, and Goodspeed representing the Architects, captured the Ping Pong title. This is the third year that Ping Pong has been included as an interclass sport and with the combination of slamming drives, tricky cuts, and baffling serves, the competition has become very keen. The league consisted of ten class teams representing the Architects, Engineers, and Artsmen who usually battled it out three afternoons a week.

This was another sport where the winner took every match. A couple of close games had the Architects worried but they came up victorious in the nine games played. Yeung, acclaimed to be the best Ping Pong player at Pratt, could be depended upon to take his match. If the opponent got too far ahead, he would use a variety of serves that usually put him right back in the game. Olson and Goodspeed are both hard men to beat for they usually teamed together to play the competition. Olson and Yeung paddled together to play the doubles match. The whole set-up was a hard one to beat. If you don't believe it ask any team they played.

HANDBALL

Interclass handball is now well established as a competitive sport. The Senior team which is composed of Joe Falotico, Ted Kuzyn, "Jake" Jaklitsch, and Gus Mangani, won the handball crown easily. The Mechanical team threatened, but that was all, for Joe Falotico took the last single game to cinch the match.

When not being used for scheduled games the courts are usually the scene of private feuding, for it is an excellent active sport when a few minutes can be spared.

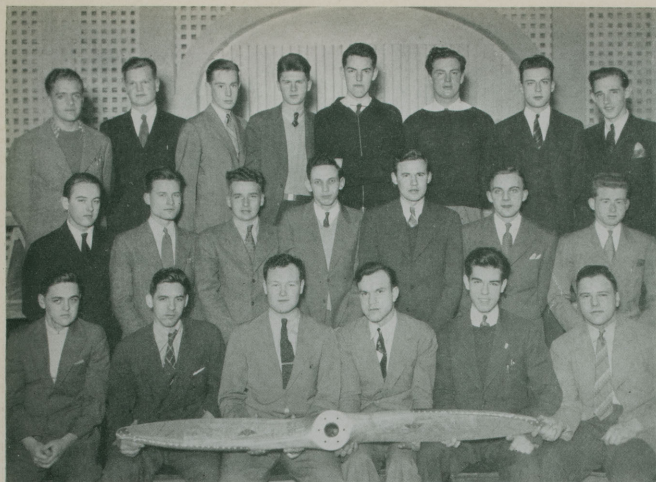

This is another sport where the championship has followed the class of Mechanical '39 through its years at Pratt. It was a very difficult team to top as can be seen by the handy way in which they beat their opponents. They were willing to take all comers.

SOFTBALL

Softball looks as if it is not a passing fancy at Pratt. Interclass competition started two years ago and last year saw the formation of the lunch league softball team. This year, still more teams are expected to participate to make a really difficult schedule for any team to sweep through. The schedule for the '40 season is now being drawn up, and from the number of early applicants, it looks as if the expectations will be fulfilled. The Mech team, which was the winner of the four o'clock league, believes it will have history repeat itself. If the brand of softball is played in the Interclass competition that has been exhibited in the tune-up games during noon hour and at four o'clock, the Mechs will have a real tough job. Every team that can possibly make it, takes advantage of the noon hour opportunity to practice at the field. This is the reason that four games are played simultaneously every day.

Aeronautics

ONE of the many things done in Washington this past year was the Congressional Authorization of the training of 20,000 pilots through the medium of the C.A.A. last summer. This gave us students the grand opportunity to learn to fly at an unbelievably low expense. Our faculty and Trustees of the Institute jumped this opportunity — but fast — and before you could say, "September, October," thirty trainers and eight alternates were receiving ground and flight instruction four hours weekly. So fast was Pratt's progress, in fact, that we were the first college in the air throughout the country under this present program. Due to the unusual faculty, and training in studies necessary to the technique of flying, we achieved this honor.

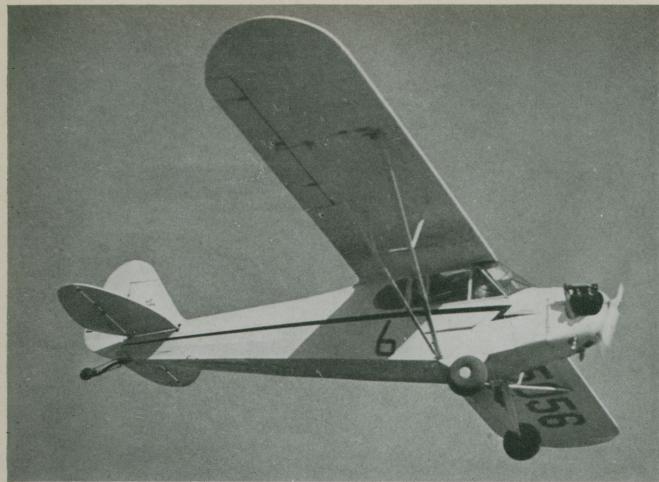

The Pratt Civil Aeronautics Authority Program was under the able direction of Mr. F. S. Egilsrud.

Mr. Egilsrud is the head of the Mechanical Engineering Laboratory of the S. and T. school. Mr. Collard taught Air Regulations, Navigation and Meteorology; Mr. Sidle, Theory of flight, Aircraft Engines and Instruments. This was further supplemented by a one hour lecture on parachutes by none other than Joe Crane of Roosevelt Field, jumping being done from desk to floor, and also a two-hour lecture on Radio Navigation by Mr. Williams of Floyd Bennett Field. The actual flying was taught by instructors at Safair Flying School, Roosevelt Field, Long Island.

At a cost of but thirty-five dollars to each student, the course consisted of seventy-two hours of ground school and thirty-five hours in the air. This fully prepared each student to take the Private Pilot's License Test. As this book goes to press, several students expect to receive their licenses in the near future.

Aeronautics

The whole course has certainly been a complete success and the students' interest has been high throughout. Witness to this fact being that one of us was the first in the East to solo (this was Henry Van Pala by the by), and the third to pass his Private Pilot's Test, to be closely followed by the rest. Another record Pratt may be proud of, is that throughout the flight training, not one Pratt student had an accident of any sort and that included a sum total of more than 1,050 flying hours! Because of this record we hope to have many more join this very interesting course — if it is to be continued. A.P.I. Flying Club is to be formed shortly, and let us hope that the government is able to continue this course next year at the same very reasonable expense.

Women's Athletic Council

H EADING the Women's Athletic Department is Miss Gilbert from Woonsocket, R. I. Miss Gilbert received her B.A. at Wellesley, continuing her studies at Columbia and Dartmouth then Wellesley and N.Y.U. for extensive professional training. Miss Gilbert has taught in both public and private schools as well as summer camps. In 1920 she entered the Physical Education department of Pratt.

Miss Gilbert has a number of hobbies including handcrafts, reading and remodeling her old farm house in Pumpkin Cove, Maine. Miss Gilbert has traveled extensively all over the world. In her we have a true friend and one whom we all admire.

Miss Brady comes to us from New York City. She received her training in the Central School of Hygiene and Physical Education and her dancing talents at Bennington College. In 1929 she joined the Pratt faculty. Her leisure time is spent doing one of two things, dancing or skiing in St. Johnsbury, Vermont. In addition Miss Brady talks of her grand times in England and Scotland.

From Richmod Hill, L. I. comes Miss Wells. She received her training at Russell Sage and is now attending N.Y.U. where she will receive her Masters Degree in June. Miss Wells talks of frequent trips to North Creek, her favorite skiing spot. Much of her free time is spent in sketching which has become an indispensable hobby. We are honored to think Miss Wells chose Pratt as her abode after traveling the coast from North Carolina far into Quebec, Canada.

VOLLEYBALL

Between the tall brick buildings in the back of our Pratt Gym, two volleyball courts await the spring and fall when they are transformed into one of the most lively spots about school. The first few weeks of Volleyball are always set aside for developing expert handling of the ball and judging the skills of others. After these plans are executed captains are chosen and teams formed for the annual play offs. The girls, noisy and vivacious all await their first exciting game. To say the least, the girls always execute a game which assures them of a stimulating response both of body and spirit. Our blue ribbon team this year was Art II which came through the entire season with their chins up and didn't even yield to their final competitors, the Costume Design II. Every year this sport beats them all for popularity. When you hear loud shrill voices from behind the closed doors on Willoughby Avenue, you know Volleyball is in full swing for another big season.

FENCING

Here we "lunge" into another much cherished sport, this time fencing, which is also featured in our athletic curriculum. Not only does fencing offer the girls a diversified sport, but also helps create poise and grace of body. All the girls receive individual attention from Miss Edna Poppe who molds them annually into a group of selected exhibitionists of Pratt. Each year reveals a more prosperous club while the April demonstration portrays an excellent example of their mastered skills. Until we have all experienced the feeling of wearing a head guard and manipulated a long shiny foil, we miss all conception of the thrill of fencing.

BASKETBALL

Our popular game of basketball still rates supreme, at least when it comes to a lively inspiring indoor game where all schools and classes are equally represented. This year we found Miss Wells working industriously with her classes in an effort to produce some real forwards and guards. The final selection of the numerous school teams was a difficult one but the selected girls proved keen competitors and offered lively entertainment even for the engineers who collect daily at the gym. The finals in basketball this year brought us a very dynamic exhibition between the Dietetics I class and the Foundation I class, which came through with a score of 18 to 13. Here's to basketball—a true creator of fine sportsmanship and builder of healthy bodies; may this sport always rate as high in years to come as it has in the past.

SOFTBALL

Because baseball requires such hard intense playing it is not included in the Womens Athletics at Pratt. However we have an ample substitute which offers the girls the same out of door sport, yet is less strenuous for them. Softball needs no more introduction for it has always rated as one of the popular sports at Pratt. In the spring the girls turn toward the athletic field, which becomes dotted with active figures industriously absorbed in this stimulating sport. Weeks of practice are essential before the girls are ready to take their final positions on the diamond and prove their skills. In every game we find intense eager competition among the girls. They all, needless to say, play hard, striving for the championship of the final sport of the year. We all believe a motivating sport such as Softball will always be among the spring favorites at Pratt.

ARTSMEN

The Artsmen, an organization comprising all male students of the Art School, began the current year with great aims, as is usually the case. Though many of our plans and ideas remain unfertilized yet, we feel that under the able leadership of our president Ed Almgren and the mature guidance of Mr. Longyear, one of our founders, we have at least maintained the original objectives of the organization. These are: to provide interesting speakers, exhibits, and entertainment for the Art School, and to insure our representation in all intramural contests. In the later consideration, we have been particularly successful this year, having won two championships and placing well in the other sports.

To conclude, may we express a hope that the unity of endeavor between the students and faculty of the Art School for which we feel no small responsibility, may continue to keep secure Pratt's place as a leader in the field of Commercial Art Education.

JUNIOR EASTERN ARTS ASSOCIATION

With the allotment of a full day for Junior Eastern Arts activities, the Association has increased in breadth of interest, and in its service to the students. By making extra-curricular work an integral part of the Teacher Training course of study, the benefits of that work, too long left to individual inclination, has become available for the whole department.

The philosophy behind this movement is that they, more than "book learnin'", are important in the development of the many personal qualities that cannot be learned in the classroom.

The students will never forget the successful monthly dinners, or the weekly programs including a wide variety of activities. The J.E.A.A. held its annual convention in Philadelphia this spring. Most of the department attended and, while gaining educational knowledge, had a riotous time.

May the organization go on to better things!

ARCHITECTS

The year 1940 has been a successful one for the Architects Club. Members of our department have three times dined out—much to the promotion of good fellowship. Other social events of the year have included a smoker at the Men's Club with an exceptionally good turnout and a dance held in cooperation with the Paletteers. The athletic teams of the Department of Architecture have brought in two or three championships in minor sports. More important however, is the fact that 60% of our students participated in interclass athletics.

This year the Architects Club has continued the practice of purchasing new books for our ever-growing library. Another educational feature was the joint meeting of the Architects Club and the Brooklyn Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

To the incoming members we extend our sincere wishes of the club for a bigger and better 1941.

PALETTEERS

This year has been one of the most active and successful years the Paletteers have had. Our activities have been teas and howdy dances to welcome the freshmen; a number of excellent exhibitions, one of the most outstanding being the Barbara Mergan Collection of photographs on the dance; we dressed Christmas dolls with skill; and our Christmas party, a surrealistic affair in collaboration with the Artsmen and Architects, is something that will long be remembered. We enjoyed the annual banquet with Desha, Lord and Taylor's sparkling fashion artist as guest speaker.

Besides this we have done a number of new things such as a theatre party to see Abe Lincoln in Illinois and on April 11 we had the first informal dance to be held outside of Pratt. It was held at the Park Central Hotel.

Our thanks to those who have helped us this year.

H. S. AND A. PRESIDENTS CABINET

ARTISANS CLUB

The Artisans' Club, which is made up of the Costume Design and Dressmaking classes, has a high standing record made by its members. Its purpose is to bring to the members people who are successful in the clothing field and would have good sound advice and ideas to offer. Because of this, the program for the year started with a very interesting talk on the fashion editing by Miss Kay Silver, Fashion Editor of "Mademoiselle".

The Artisans' Club has participated in the weekly assemblies. The first of our efforts was a play, "Old Timer".

We have also presented, in cooperation with the S.E.S.E., Miss Darling, Beauty Editor of "Vogue", who spoke on make-up, and Mr. Leo who spoke on Coiffeurs.

During the remainder of the year we have heard from Miss Mary McKee, head of the Training Bureau at Lord and Taylor; Mrs. Anna Kurtagh, owner and manager of Anna Kurtagh Shop and Miss Marian Stephenson, Fashion Photographer.

DIETETICS CLUB

Our club was formed for the purpose of stimulating interest in Dietetics, thereby establishing a bond between our scholastic and future professional lives. We endeavor to lay the foundation for interest and eventual membership in Alumni, state and national dietetics organizations.

This year we have promoted this interest through diversified activities. One major event was the Valentine Koffee Klatch to which a number of recent graduates were invited. In addition to an interesting account of such individual's work in various fields, and suggestions as to how we might best obtain such positions, the speakers stressed the importance of a degree.

Because we recognize the unlimited opportunities in the field of Dietetics, we endeavor to assist our members in choosing their particular interest by having successful and renowned speakers present to us their chosen fields in detail.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Endeavoring to make the Home Economics Club of vital interest and importance to the H. S. & A. students, the officers and the various committees planned numerous activities which were carried out during the past year.

In order to better acquaint prospective students with Pratt Institute, a tea for the members of high school home economics clubs of greater New York was given in December. Another outstanding social event was the Valentine Dance held in Recreation Hall.

The highlights of the club meetings included the starting of an Honorary Service Organization and a fashion show which was arranged by the Costume Design department and displayed the current popular styles. The club members also had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. I. Bailey Allen and Miss E. McLloyd-Jones, Ph.D. of Columbia University speak on "Techniques of Radio Broadcast".

S. & T. STUDENT BOARD

The activities of this year's Student Board have been directed along similar channels of years past. Our annual Freshman Smoker in September was well represented, and the faculty showed their cooperation by attending. The Board has planned an "Orientation Day" for freshmen of next fall. The combined Student Boards of 1940 and 1941 will entertain the new men for a full day.

The Student Board pioneered and won laurels by conducting an informal dance at the Hotel St. George Roof on January 27. Engineers, the S. & T. faculty, Costume Designers, Art Students, Dietitians, and friends comprised the gathering of over 500 who attended—a memorable evening.

As a concluding picture, the past Student Boards poured the keel and got her down the ways, the present Board got up steam and proved what she can do. To the new Board, we say, "Be always manned and ready and best of luck in 1941."

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MECHANICAL ENGINEERS

During the year 1939-1940, the Pratt Institute Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers enjoyed a season of activity which was of interest to all its members. The program Committee, headed by Charles Fennel and under the able guidance of the faculty advisor, Mr. James W. Hunter presented numerous programs.

The meetings of this year were enlivened by the use of the recently acquired motion picture projector. Outstanding meetings of the year included talks by representatives of manufacturers. Stimulated by the C.A.A. training program, the Aeronautical Section presented prominent speakers from the plane testing and glider industries.

Representatives of our branch attended the Eastern Student Convention held at Newark College of Engineering April 29 and 30, where our school was represented in the paper competition. In closing this year's activities, the officers thank all members for cooperation.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS

The 1940 program for the Pratt branch of the A.I.E.E. was planned so that one branch of electrical engineering would be emphasized each month. The climax of our activities is the Fourteenth Annual Student Convention of the Third District, which was held at Pratt Institute on April 25th. A lecture by Mr. James E. Thompson, of our department of Mathematics, and a meeting on Accident Prevention provided recent high spots.

The convention is a yearly event in the program of the nine engineering schools in the New York area. The technical session in the morning consists of the presentation of student papers, for which there is a first prize of twenty-five dollars and a second prize of fifteen dollars, awarded by the parent organization of the A.I.E.E.

The program this year consisted of several inspection trips and a banquet, held in the School Cafeteria. The speaker was selected from one of the countries top ranking industries.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

Several outstanding speakers addressed our chapter of the A.I.Ch.E. this year included Mr. Dargen of the Consolidated Edison Company, who brought some very interesting motion pictures taken inside coke oven; Dr. George Maverick, of the Standard Oil Development Company and Dr. Walter Ullrich of the Lummus Company.

Our chapter was well represented at the 32nd Annual Meeting in Providence, Rhode Island. The trip included Plant Inspection Trips around Providence; dinner at which we had the great pleasure of listening to Professor Alexander Magoun, of M.I.T., who spoke on "The Unrecognized Poverty"; and also a Round Table Discussion conducted by various men from the Chemical Industry.

The remainder of the year's activities included the Annual Formal Dance of the Chapter, a joint Alumni-Student Dinner, the Annual Metropolitan A.I.Ch.E. Student Chapter convention at Columbia University and the Annual Banquet at the Chemists' Club.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club was organized in the early part of October under the auspices of the student branch of the A.I.E.E. with the officers of the club being the radio committee of the A.I.E.E. and the general membership open to all day students. A constitution was adopted and a medium power transmitter constructed in the Electrical laboratory.

Lectures, presentation of student papers, and inspection trips have featured the interesting programs of the organization. One of the most interesting was a demonstration and lecture on television during which a program originating in the R.C.A. studios and broadcast from atop the Empire State Building was viewed in the Lecture Hall. Mr. David Sarnoff, Pratt alumnus and President of R.C.A., addressed the group. Then, showing the versatility of this medium in the field of entertainment, a movie was televised.

GLEE CLUB

(To be read 10 years from now)

Memories, dear memories! Weren't we the happy group? Once a week, we assembled to "blend our voices in harmonious song!" We really had a grand time getting together and singing for all we were worth. We soon learned that there were some pretty good scouts in the other schools, too. Why, that's where I met — well, never mind! We sang at Noon Hour Services on Thursday quite regularly. At that time, we showed what we actually accomplished at our rehearsals. We always hoped to give a concert, not of Glee Club alone, but one which would expose all musical talent in school.

That movie we gave "Yesterday Lives Again" was quite a hit and it was fun to be haunted by our favorite "menace". And then, there was the radio given away at the Art School Christmas party — and an art student didn't win it. Wow!

Gosh! those certainly were the days.

DEBATING CLUB

This past year saw the inauguration of intercollegiate debating at Pratt Institute. It was formed under the direction of Mr. Cowles by six members of the class of 1939. The membership of the club is limited by charter. The first major event was held with St. Lawrence University of Canton, New York. The debate proved highly successful with the fine cooperation of the first year students who were well represented. A round table discussion with Brooklyn College, Queens College, Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, Hofstra College and Household Science and Arts School participating was another activity.

Tentative plans for future discussions with other colleges sometime in April are included in the club's program.

The club, as a member of the New York State Debating Society, has as its aims not only the task of mastering the difficult art of public speaking but also the broadening of the students' intellectual interests.

PRATT PLAY SHOP

The year 1939 augmented the fifth successful season of the Pratt Playshop. Under the capable leadership of Ben Fromkin the Playshop welcomed the future Lunts and Fontaines into its fold and started the season off with a bang by presenting that spectacle of all time, "Pratt Panics of 1939", which proved a success both materially and financially. Who can ever forget the antics of Elise Healy, the voice of Mary Ann Krejci, or that memorable Russian Melodramer "Oski Oski Bush"?

Later in the season, the Playshop sponsored a benefit raffle and dance with music by the most popular bands of the day via turntable.

As a climax to a successful season, the Playshop produced as its annual major presentation "Petticoat Fever" by Mark Reed. The play was directed by Mr. Monte Meacham and the setting was designed and executed by Ben Fromkin. The production was enthusiastically received and a bigger and better season is in view for next year.

WOMEN'S CLUB

The Women's Club is for the benefit of every girl of the Institute. It affords the students an opportunity to enjoy themselves and to meet fellow students at all times. It offers a homey environment, relaxing surroundings, a congenial company and various other diversions. Current magazines, a radio, piano and lounge are at the disposal of all, and the delightful kitchen and lunchroom facilities offer ample opportunity for grand times. During the early part of each semester, two teas are given at the Club to which all students are cordially invited. Casual teas and get-together parties are held frequently and are always well attended. Permission is graciously granted to groups and classes who wish to hold meetings or prepare suppers. We are indebted to Mrs. Hewlett for making the Women's Club an enjoyable place for study and social contacts; and we appreciate the charm and friendliness which she extends to all those who frequent the club.

GET-TO-GETHER CLUB

The Get-Together-Club has proven its success this year through its attractive informal tea's and suppers. More and more girls have participated in its affairs and special praise goes to Mrs. Hewlett and the committees for the grand job they have done in making the organization a success.

Yuletide cheer and traditions were carried out by the beautiful decorations, a Santa Claus who passed out gifts to everyone and the singing of Christmas Carols.

At the February meeting, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Boudreau were our guests and Mrs. Boudreau showed very interesting colored slides and spoke to us on "Flying as a Sport." Her enthusiasm on the subject was shared by the audience. A delicious Chow Mein supper was prepared and served by Virginia Guild and her committee.

Later on this spring the club plans to hold an outdoor tea in the garden.

We sincerely wish this congenial organization much success in the future.

MEN'S CLUB

As a meeting place for friends, a quiet spot to get in some work, and as a center of relaxing recreation, the Men's Club has continued its service to the male students of Pratt this year. Supervised by Mr. Wright, and under the capable direction of Julius and his three assistants, Bob Wilcox, Alex Romanski, and Tony Jonassen, the club facilities are available to the students six days a week exclusive of Sundays.

The renovated bowling alleys and pool tables have been the scene of many crucial clashes as the various schools of the Institute battled for supremacy. The club serves coffee and sandwiches at noon and many of the men prefer to eat here for, when finished, they can relax in friendly games of pinochle or chess, or perhaps browse through a copy of Life.

Jointly supported through tuition contributions, pool and bowling receipts, and the sale of tobacco and candy, the club fulfills a worthwhile purpose.

DATA BOARD

In an editorial in one of the year's Data Board's is the phrase, "... satisfaction of having done something unrequired, entirely under your own steam, and of having made a good job of it." The members of the staff of this S. and T. paper may certainly have the satisfaction, having labored to put a newsy publication that has filled a definite want. The stories and articles served to acquaint those in the Engineering School with the various events of the school year and have presented new ideas and promoted certain needed programs. The paper follows its slogan, "By the students . . . for the students."

In the second year of its inky existence it announced the C.A.A. Program at Pratt, presented the results of the investigation of the S. and T. dance, and helped launch the all-Institute paper, The Prattler, and conducted an informative sports department.

With graduation in the offing, the most prevalent query of the seniors is, "A job—how? where? when? The perplexity of this question inspired the S.E.S.E.—Student Education for Seeking Employment. It is conducted by a committee of thirty students and seven faculty members, in a cooperative, constructive program designed to help with the knotty problem of how to get a job—and keep it. Dozens of busy but interested men and women, all successful in their respective fields of work—news-papers, shops, hospital, tea room, cafeteria, etc.—responded to the committee's call for help and counsel, with the result that lectures, demonstrations, panel discussions, field trips, interviews, job analyses, and "good grooming clinics" have inspired the job-hunting seniors to tackle their personal employment.

Display Class

ALTHOUGH still in its infancy the Display class under the capable and critical eyes of its instructors, Mr. Lewis of the Eastman Kodak Display Department and Mr. Brulin of our own Industrial design department, has taken great strides this year in the field of display design.

The small group could be seen every Thursday at four wending its tireless way via Independent Transit to Queens Village Plaza for a two-hour seminar at Kodak. Practical work on actual window displays plus a few cut fingers and aching arms resulted from the hammering and din emanating every Tuesday morning from 263.

Came spring and all attention was concentrated on the annual exhibition at which all the window displays at Radio City were designed and executed by the display group.

We of the group taking this specialized course highly endorse it as a source for individual ingenuity and distinctive taste. The field display is unlimited and the time and effort expended was wholly profitable, thanks to those who gave their time and effort to make it so.

Social Slants

LATE SEPTEMBER found many Pruttonians including our oriented Freshmen, boarding ye olde ship for the West Point trip . . . a jolly time with much merrymaking . . . or so we heard. . . The basketball season swung into action with the students cheering lustily and shouting for victories . . . spectacular last-minute shots seemed to be a specialty with our boys. . . The thriller-dillers in Memorial Hall attracted avid movie fans . . . we liked "Dracula" especially . . . good ol' spine-chiller! . . . The C.D.'s came forth with a Hallowe'en party for their Freshmen with "Madame Serpentina" keeping the guests entertained. . . The Chem Hop found the boys from across the tracks proudly escorting their heart-beats to their night of nights . . . and what a night! . . . Especially noted was some extra special rug-cutting and without a slide-rule no less. . . Just to mention a few of the many activities in the lives of our social butterflies. . .

. . . Our harassed stoo-dents had a breathing spell at Thanksgiving time when all scurried hither and yon and partook of the festive bird . . . then back they came . . . in the groove once more. . . Christmas parties soon came along with the Artsmen, Paletteers and Architects gathering their clan and having a rip-snortin' good time with dancing and candy canes . . . whoops . . . the striped variety. . . A clever "Holiday Cruise" party was given by the Dietetics II class on December 19th. . . Imaginary stops were made in Mexico, California, and Hawaii. . . The Playshop worked industriously to make their theatrical season a success. . . By presenting a cleverly executed revue and a one-act radio play they were able to store in the old sock some much needed coin for their major production. . .

Social Slants

WHEN the holiday spirit had subsided, we found that the S & T Dance was now in the limelight . . . late January . . . the Hotel St. George Roof provided a smooth setting. . . Bill Fenno's renditions and innumerable elevator trips did no harm either . . . orchids to the committee for a slick piece of work . . . banquets, foreign dinners and teas managed to inveigle themselves into the picture about this time . . . the Pop Concert on February 23rd proved a real treat. Amusing side-shows helped to swell the scholarship fund . . . a turbaned palmist "told all" and a caricaturist revealed those who posed for him, as others see us! . . . Wow! . . . The Juniors of H.S.&A. entertained their senior sisters at a good ol' fashioned Minstrel Show with dark faces et al. The square dancing was a hilarious high-light of the affair. . . Rec Hall was attractively transformed for the Valentine Dance given by the Home Eco Club . . . a red letter event. . .

. . . The Playshop's long awaited production was heralded by a large audience in Memorial Hall . . . under expert direction and management "Petticoat Fever" received ovations on both nights of its run . . . the play provided many interesting and hilarious moments and we must mention poor, dear Dascom Dinsmore . . . the Playshop is deserving of praise for a most successful 1940 . . . take a bow! . . .

. . . The halls of Pratt are literally humming with the excited voices of its seniors . . . so tired . . . only yesterday they made their grand entrance at the Essex House . . . it was their own Senior Prom . . . "visions of delight" and their escorts "tripped the light fantastic" . . . buoyant banter and badinage . . . toasts to the future, to you, to us, to Pratt! . . . A gala nite, indeed.

The Prom is now but a reminiscence . . . life has gone on all too hurriedly . . . the month of May is about to make its triumphant entry and so a capable and efficient committee is completing plans for our first Field Day . . . everyone anxiously awaiting the competitive contests . . . the singing and dancing . . . the exhibition of fireworks . . . and the piece de resistance . . . the crowning of our Pratt Queen! . . . It is hoped that this first endeavor will be successfully received by all the schools of Pratt . . . a good opportunity for all to join hands and say "Howdy" . . .

. . . Then . . . the calm before the storm . . . hours of cramming . . . black java . . . to help us ignore the chimes of the wee mornin' hours . . . gym cuts to make up . . . Prattonians with puzzled frowns . . . chain cokers and smokers . . . the torture of exams and more exams . . . the chant of all Organic Chem stoudents . . .

Now I lay me down to rest
Before I take my chemistry test
And if I die before I wake
Thank God! I'll have no test to take!

Ah! . . . sighs of relief . . . bravo! . . . victory is ours! . . .
. . . All good things come to an end . . . and so you are to graduate . . . Wistfully you look forward to the Senior Reception and then to the memorable day in June . . . To you who go out from your Alma Mater . . . we wish the very best that life can offer . . . to you who are still in the throes of Prattonic bliss . . . carry on! . . . to all the classes whom we shall never know, we bequeath with a touch of wistfulness no flippancy can hide . . . swift years of undergraduate happiness! . . .

SUPPLY STORES

The Bookstore, under the direction of Mr. Butler and his able assistants is sponsored for the benefit of the students of the Institute. Here the students may obtain the very finest in materials, books and written information for their school needs. It is hoped that the Book Store will continue its valuable service in the future.

Despite their competitive spirit Jake's and Sol's still remain the essence of a Pratt student's needs. Their passwood is convenience and their fulfillment is of the best. They represent a tradition as old as the cannon itself.

Rare indeed will be the day when one can't drop in to swap light-hearted banter with these two cheery proprietors and rare indeed will be the day they say "We're sorry we don't carry that". Dependability, reliability and honesty are the keynotes of these three Pratt Institutions now and forever.

REST HOUSE

Very little needs be said concerning the Rest House, for breathes there a Pratt student who hasn't at some time or other enjoyed the congenial hospitality of Miss Hale and Mrs. Hatch while luxuriously fighting those pesky germs, measles or even a severe case of dandruff. For a minimum fee of one dollar a day, a student may stay at the Rest House in case of illness until he is pronounced fit and able enough to prance back to his studies. Not only do patients enjoy every convenience, but the possibility of effusive friends offering cheery words of comfort plus the added probability of a bunch of posies, the result of plundering the class treasury, is very intriguing. Sounds rather cosy, doesn't it? Remember, whenever you have a sprain, break, cold or "symptoms", see Miss Hale and after a few preliminary examinations perhaps you will be eligible for a stay at the Rest House . . . Simple, yes?
